Law Might Nix Joint Office

Solution Lies With School

The city ran into what could be a major stumbling block Wednesday afternoon in its attempt to consolidate tax offices with the Canyon Independent School District.

Early Wednesday morning, city commissioners gave the final go-ahead to the consolidation--contingent on several points--but later in the day, City Attorney Elton Cox said state statutes may interfere in the consolidation, anyway.

Quoting state statute 1066-B, Cox said the tax valuation of the contracting agency (the city) cannot be higher than the tax valuation of the servicing agency (the school district).

Cox said this article could well keep the city and school tax offices from combining, a plan which has been under study about six months.

The city's valuation is 50 per cent and the school district's is 40 per cent.

However, Cox pointed out that a possible solution could be reached in that the school district has not yet set its yearly tax rate and valuation.

"Since the school hasn't set its rate yet, it could raise its valuation and lower its tax rate and keep taxes on an even keel," he said.

However, Supt. of Schools Jerry Jacobs put a damper on that solution.

He said although the school board will probably not set the tax rate until August, he doesn't think the board would go along with raising the valuation and lowering the rate.

He said the school's tax structure is based upon the amount of money needed for the yearly budget.

He said such a plan "wouldn't really be feasible with all the rural property we handle."

Mayor Paul Lindsey said the future of the tax office consolidation this year rests with the school board's action on setting its valuation.

"If they haven't set it yet, then it would be an easy solution to the problem," he said.

City commissioners had planned to lower their valuation to meet the school district's next year and up their tax rate, anyway, he said.

Earlier Wednesday, commissioners voted unanimously to join with the school district in the office, which is to be overseen by the school district.

However, they made such consolidation contingent upon whether the school tax assessor-collector can keep the tax rolls separate during the first year of operation.

They had also asked that the office maintain the same tax rate and valuation for the city rolls through the first year.

According to the law, Cox said Wednesday afternoon, this would be impossible.

In other action, the commission awarded a contract for paving and seal-coating of various city streets, plus the widening of the south part of 26th Street behind West Texas State University.

The contract went to low-bidder Lee Milligan of Amarillo, with a total bid of $30,293.

Morris Suit To Be Heard

A civil suit for $19,500 involving Eugene "Mercury" Morris, all-American West Texas State University football player, is scheduled for today for 108th District Court in Amarillo.

Judge Mary Lou Robinson said, however, the suit, which was brought by the mother of Mark Wayne Matthews of Canyon, might not be brought to trial until Friday.

The suit is a result of a beating administered by Morris to young Matthews the night of Feb. 11 in Canyon.

Morris pleaded guilty to charges of simple assault in the court of Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson and was fined $100.

Matthews, 17, a Canyon High School student, told officers following the Feb. 11 incident that he yelled "Hey, Merk!" at Morris, while the football standout was in a local gas station.

Morris alleged that Matthews yelled "Hey, Nigger!"

Matthews said he was chased and attacked by Morris, who held a ball peen hammer in one hand.

Morris admitted carrying the hammer but said "I didn't intend to hit anyone with the hammer."

Club Nears Completion

The new Hunsley Hills Golf and County Club will be open for public inspection June 28-29 in Hunsley Hills.

Tom Rose, manager, said the finishing touches are being added to the remodeled country clubhouse and all preparations should be completed by that date.

Remodeling of the clubhouse, which began in March, is the final touch on the country club.

All that remains for the clubhouse to be complete is a few furnishings and light fixtures. The club's swimming pool is also still under construction, but is expected to be finished by the open house date.

The clubhouse, which has been furnished and decorated by Earl Herring of Amarillo, includes a lounge area, dining room area with dance floor, a small private dining room, a fully-equipped kitchen, a ladies luncheon and card room and a club office.

It is carpeted throughout.

Not yet under construction are tennis courts, which will be just south of the fenced-in swimming pool area.

When completd, the golf and country club will include the clubhouse facilities, pool, tennis courts, 18-hole golf course, golf pro shop.

"We will have full country club facilities," Rose said.

The dining room will be open to members and their guests from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 9 or 10 p.m., he said. In addition, the lounge will have

Fish Rodeo Is Saturday

Young fishermen will gather Saturday at ten o'clock for an annual "fishing rodeo" sponsored by the Canyon Jaycees.

The rodeo will be held at the Tony Burrus farm, Palo Duro Creek, about two miles northeast of the West Texas State University Maintanance Building. Signs will lead the way from the maintenance building on Saturday.

Young fishermen from preschool through age 12 are invited to participate in the rodeo which gets underway at 10 a.m. Contestants should furnish their fishing equipment. Bait will be furnished by the Jaycees at no charge.

Rodeo fishing will be supervised by members of the Jaycees, however parents are also invited to join the fun.

Trophies will be presented the winners in four age groups at 3 p.m. Trophies will be for the largest fish and the largest string of fish in the divisions including pre-school, 6-8, 8-10 and 10-12.

Court Eyes Back Taxes

Want State Law Changed

Randall County Commissioners discussed Monday possible plans of attack to rescind a state law involving tax suits for amounts under $25.

Disgruntled by delinquent taxes, commissioners said the law, which prohibits suing for taxes owed under $25, hampers regaining a good amount of tax monies.

District Attorney George Dowlen said he has sent out about 500 letters to delinquent taxpayers and will probably have to sue between 12 and 15.

"It's time for us to try and get that law changed," Commissioner Clarence Beckman said.

Commissioner Bill Butler pointed out that another difficulty in regaining delinquent taxes is a state statute which prohibits collecting of taxes after a three-year period.

Dowlen said he would rather see the three-year statute of limitations taken off the books than the law involving suits.

Judge Carroll Brown said the county could "collect more if they knew we were going to pursue if they didn't pay."

Butler said "we need to get that law changed so we treat everybody in the same manner."

The commission discussed the possibility of talking with the local state representatives in Austin, and also of seeking support to repeal the law through various associations.

In other action, the court tabled a request by C. A. Wagner of Amarillo to grade and maintain a road in the Holiday South development.

Wagner said he had dedicated the road to the county and would like to have it cared for.

But, Commissioner Jim Fletcher told Wagner "it's not the obligation of the county to maintain your road just because you dedicated it."

Fletcher said he feels the county should not be responsible for improvements made to property in a development.

Commissioners also reviewed and paid monthly bills.

Old Refrigerator Just Won't Quit

If built-in obsolescence was even thought of in the days of 1919, it was just a glint in the manufacturer's eye.

No doubt, Delco Light Co. of Dayton, Ohio, built their 1919-model refrigerators to last- at least until the final payment was made.

But, they probably didn't expect their 1919 model to last a full half-century.

Mrs. Madison Daugherty's did. She finally traded her 1919 Frigidaire in on a new model last week.

The refrigerator, according to Andy Anderson, local Frigidaire dealer, was probably the first mechanical refrigerator in the Panhandle.

"Back in those days they didn't rush things," Anderson said, "and few people were interested in a mechanical refrigerator."

The refrigerator was installed in the home of Dr. J. A. Hill, new president of what is now West Texas State University.

Anderson said the Hills soon traded the 1919-model for a newer self-contained unit.

The older refrigerator came in two units--one the refrigerator itself, and the other the mechanical cooling unit.

Mrs. Daugherty said she and her husband bought the refrigerator in 1932 from Allan Farlow, who was at that time the Frigidaire dealer.

The Daughertys lived on a farm north of Canyon then and Mrs. Daugherty said the refrigerator was large enough to hold about 12 gallons of milk in containers.

Up to about 1962, the refrigerator operated without a hitch. But, Anderson was called in to do an overhaul.

"We completely rebuilt the mechanism," he said, "and we did something which I'm extremely regretful of--we changed it from a sulphur to a freon unit."

The entire outside of the freezer is solid oak and the inside is finished in procelain. In

Hooper Resigns; To Midwestern

Joe Hooper, business manager at West Texas State University, announced his resignation this week effective in mid-July.

Hooper will go to Midwestern University in Wichita Falls as financial vice president.

A native of Borger, he came to WTSU 12 years ago as assistant business manager. He assumed business manager duties in 1960.

Midwestern has an enrollment of about 3,900.

"It was a hard decision to make," Hooper said, "but I felt it was a definite advancement which I couldn't afford to turn down."

Hooper said he likes Canyon "as most people do who live here any length of time."

Hooper attended Frank Phillips Junior College in Borger

Boy Must Have Shots; Dog Caught

A four-day dog hunt culminated late Tuesday in the capture of a 50-pound German Shepherd, which bit a 6-year-old boy late Saturday.

Chief of Police Calvin Costley said the dog's head was sent to Austin for examination for rabies.

The boy, Scott Lenham of Amarillo, was to undergo rabies shots beginning Wednesday.

He was bitten Saturday in the 500 block of 10th Avenue. The dog bit him on the elbow and the ear.

Police searched the city until late Tuesday when the dog was captured and killed.

"I would encourage dog owners to keep their dogs confined either by chain or in their yards," Costley said, "because from now on, dogs will be caught and put in the pound and if they can't be caught they'll be destroyed."

Mrs. Plank's Condition Satisfactory

Mrs. E. E. Plank of Canyon, injured in a two-car accident recently, remained in satisfactory condition late this week at Neblett Hospital.

Mrs. Plank was driver of a south-bound car which was crossing U. S. 60 about 3 miles west of the city. Her car came into collision with one driven by Bill Rogers of Amarillo.

Rogers was not seriously injured.

Herrick Sees Cattle Boom

Tom Herrick foresees a time when there will be 4,000,000 cattle on feed in the Golden Spread area.

Herrick, president of Randall County Feed Yards, spoke Wednesday at a regular meeting of Canyon Lions Club. He said 2,000,000 on a one-time basis will be on feed by the end of the year.

He noted that about 40 percent of the area's grain sorghum potential is being used.

Herrick expects farming of wheat and cotton to give way to grain sorghum and said that he foresees a time when the grain farmer will get a bigger slice of the profits from feeding animals.

Herrick pointed out that feeding, packing houses and allied industries will bring about $6 billion annually to the area's gross product. He hailed this as a tremendous boost to the economy.

The young cattle feeder said importation of water is to be the area's salvation but that in the interim the feeding industry will look to the North Plains where irrigation farming is just beginning to develop.

Supply of feeders is a major problem with the industry at this point, said Herrick. He urged suppliers to bring feeders off on a continuing basis rather than once or twice a year.

He foresaw no immediate decline in the price of beef. "It takes three years to get a feeder ready for slaughter and we can't see any over supply in at least that length of time," he said. "Barring a depression, prices should remain good."

Randall County Feed yard is about to bring its mill capacity to 1,000,000 pounds a day. Herrick said this will be one of the biggest in the world.

Over 500 Students Seek Summer Jobs

Five hundred and ninety-two Canyon students are seeking summer employment through the school's summer job service.

"So far, we have had very few prospective employers call," stated Hobart McDonald, secondary curriculum director for the Canyon Independent School District.

"These kids need the opportunity to work," he emphasized.

Prospective employers may contact Miss Pat O'Brien, 655-2148, to learn of students qualified for the job. Employers will be given the option of contacting the student or having a qualified student contact them for openings.

McDonald said "these students are capable and deserving young people" as he listed areas of work for which there have been applicants.

COVERING FUMBLES

Grandma and I are completely "out of tune" with a grandson's envy of the astronauts on their trip to the moon.

by Troy Martin
FROM THE CANYON RIM

Young people have some legitimate complaints.

I spent an hour this week listening to a review of some of them and I consider most of them valid.

The young man to whom I talked is 21 years old and is a recent university graduate.

He started with the Vietnam war. "If we should be there then we should try to win," he declared simply.

"I don't argue over whether we should be there or not but I take a dim view of going half way round the world and dying for something that the American people are not behind 100 percent.

"If the country were in a war like World War II then I'd be the first to volunteer. But look at the thing right now. We are pulling out 25,000 men from Vietnam and it makes me think that the first objective of the soldier is just to stay alive until he gets to come home rather than winning.

"Our government doesn't seem to be interested in winning. Soldiers take a hill, for instance, and then give it right back to the enemy. It just doesn't make sense.

"Now look at the Pueblo. Our government deserted that crew when they needed help most. When they finally did get back home they were treated more or less like criminals at least for a while.

"Why doesn't our country act like it has some power?

"The North Koreas shot down our recon plane and 31 of our men are just gone.

"There's no honor being a soldier anymore, at least the people in this country don't honor a soldier. You go to Vietnam and risk your life and people back home say 'So what?'

"I've got some friends my own age who are in the service and going to Vietnam. They're scared and frustrated. It just seems to them they haven't got very long to live and what frustrates them the most is that the country they're going to be fighting for doesn't seem to care.

"I think that if this country is going to ask young fellows like me to go out and die for it, then the country is going to have to take some risks too.

"You can't ask generation after generation of young men to take these risks while the rest of the country stays home in affluence doing business as usual.

"If the country doesn't eventually make it clear to the rest of the world that we're ready to use all the nation's power in situations in which we become involved, we may not only have more and more young people unwilling to serve but we will give our position in the world away piece by piece."

He said he considers the draft unfair.

"Dying is not for the rich," he declared. He enumerated several wealthy young men in Amarillo who have not been in the service and whom he said are not likely to be.

"Draft board members are usually influential people in the community and they associate with other influential people. They can keep the children of their friends out of the Army.

"I think every young man who is able to walk ought to go to the service at a certain age if we are going to draft anyone. Everybody could do something in the service.

"I just don't think the fighting and dying should be left up to the young people without wealth or influence."

He had some pointed criticisms of universities. He said the young anarchists who take over college buildings and real estate do not represent the campus majority and seem bent on political upheaval rather than improving the institutions.

Students are disgruntled and rightly so, he says.

"Students are being defrauded in the class rooms by instructors who have no desire and maybe even no ability to teach," he declared.

"You spend your money going to a university expecting to be challenged by a brilliant professor. You arrive to find that the class is so big that you don't even get to talk to him.

"Worse, you are taught by a graduate assistant and never even see the professor you had expected.

"I found, however, that the young instructors in college were best. They were trying to make a name for themselves and to accomplish something.

"Middle-aged professors have tenure and can't be fired. A lot of them take advantage of this and don't even try to teach. I took one course my last semester in school and didn't hear a single lecture by my teacher.

"We just made reports. I could have taken a text book and done that without even coming to college.

"I think tenure is doing more than anything else to pull down the quality of instruction in our universities.

"Most of us went to college to get an education. . .be challenged. Naturally, we were disappointed to get there and find it so hard to get anyone to really try to teach us.

"One of my friends went to Cal Tech. He had heard it was a good school. He found the same thing out there. He got to the point he didn't even go to class but made good grades anyway.

"Another friend of mine is in dental school. He says his instructors are too lazy or something to teach. Anyway they are not getting the instruction across like he feels they should.

"He's frustrated because he knows that someday he's going to have to go out into the world and be responsible to the public for what he should have learned in school.

"These are not the kind of things you demonstrate about and the students concerned are not the kind of people who would demonstrate anyway but they are things that cause a deep-seated frustration and anger in young people across the country."

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

Not since the signing of the Declaration of Independence have so many American owed so much to so few: our police force; it is undermanned, overworked, underpaid, over maligned, and unappreciated.

The policeman dons a uniform at the risk of his life. He knows he may meet sudden death around the next corner; and if he does, he will die relatively unlamented, unsung, and probably unavenged.

In Plainview, a patrolman was savagely pistol whipped by a hoodlum whose gun repeatedly failed to fire. The would-be killer was not even given a jail sentence.

A man charged with killing an Amarillo policeman, June 7, 1964, was acquitted in 1966. He was, however, given a 5-year sentence--probated, of course, for armed robbery. (He stole a pickup truck; apparently, pickups are more valuable than policemen.)

In 1967 he savagely murdered three more people. Finally, he was sentenced to death; but at the last report he was still in good health and eating well. His court-appointed attorneys continue the battle to save his life.

In Los Angeles, two patrolmen stopped a car for a defective tail light. They were kidnapped at gun point by two hoods, and marched into a deserted field. While one officer was being riddled with bullets, the other ran. He escaped only because the killers were poor shots.

Both murderers were on parole. Eight times they had been recipients of judicial leniency in the form of conditional release, parole or probation.

Captured within hours, the sadists were convicted and sentenced to die. The California Supreme Court reversed the conviction, and ordered a new trial. The killers are still being well-fed and housed by the taxpayers, and defended by tax-paid attorneys.

A survey of 36 major police departments from Boston to Honolulu disclosed that not one was up to authorized strength. Los Angeles reported an urgent need of 10,000 men, but unable to fill their authorized strength of 5383. U. S. assistant Attorney General Fred Vinson, Jr., quotes the nationwide police shortage at 50,000.

In spite of a few black sheep, as is common to all professions--even the ministry, we probably have the finest police force in the world. A unit of the President's Crime Commission witnessed 5339 "police-citizen encounters"; they found only 20 cases where they felt police had exerted excessive force. That was a satisfactory performance of 99.63% of the sample observed. What other profession can match that record?

Yet in 1967, 26,775 policeman were assaulted in the line of duty; 123 were slain. This does not include accidental deaths.

The O. E. O. puts $3200 annual income for a non-farm family of four on the poverty level. In Dickson, Tenn., patrolmen start at $2,400; in Durant, Okla., at $2,700; in Glasgow, Ky., at $3,000; in Amarillo, Texas, at $5,520. In any area the policeman's salary is usually below average income, yet in almost all cases the men are on call 24-hours a day, seven days a week.

When we refuse to pay our protectors a living wage, or punish the hoods who assault them; and when the average child views a uniformed policeman as a natural enemy, there is something radically wrong with adult attitudes. Without courageous policemen with guns to protect the law-abiding citizens, our major cities would soon become little more than neon jungles peopled with human beasts.

(Next week a proposed solution will be discussed.)

Letter Applauds Canyon As Home Town

Mrs. Gilbert Brown won third place in a recent "My Home Town" letter writing contest with a tribute to Canyon.

The contest was sponsored by Amarillo Daily News.

Mrs. Brown, counsellor at West Texas State University, received a $4 cash prize for her winning entry. She is author of the column "Our World" which appears in the Thursday publications of The Canyon News.

Mrs. Brown's letter reads:

"We fell in love with our home-town because of its beauty; approach Canyon any time of the day or night, from the north, south or east, and it's the most beautiful town on the Plains.

"We love the people.

"The merchants do not offer the kind of service one expects to get for money, but the kind of accommodations one expects from friends.

"Then we have our beloved West Texas State University. While students in all parts of the nation are burning their colleges down and disgracing themselves with all kinds of savagery, our students are quietly pursuing their education, sending blood to our boys in Vietnam, collecting money for the Red Cross and conducting heart, and cancer drives.

"Our schools are excellent from kindergarten through the University, and have been for many years. We have the highest academic level of any town in the nation: 13 years as compared to the national average of 10.

"Canyon has the best hospital, the finest doctors, the kindest nurses, and the most adequate nursing home, and funeral home available anywhere. We have all the advantages of the cities--with none of the disadvantages. We have adequate shops, banks, personal services, and entertainment--any of which can be reached in five minutes from any part of town; and, one can walk the streets in safety day or night.

"We are not isolated; our newspaper gives us complete local coverage, and keeps us informed on world affairs. We are only a few minutes from beautiful Lake Tanglewood, Palo Duro Canyon, and Buffalo Lake.

"Naturally, such fine people create good churches. Apparently, our pastor feels the same way; he has been here 18 years.

"The WT faculty likes Canyon; about 97 per cent of the ones who retire here, remain here. Five faculty members have been here more than 40 years; 24, between 20 and 40 years; 53, between 10 and 20 years; and 47, more than 5 years.

"We live in the country, 30 miles from Canyon, but it is still our home town. We obtain almost all of our personal goods and services here. We are in church every Sunday, except once each summer while vacationing 'out of town.'

New Church For Canyon

A Negro Baptist Church has been organized in Canyon with William Johnson, Jr., an ordained Baptist minister, as interim pastor.

The congregation meets in a building at 1600 Fifth Avenue, donated rent free by Tom Black.

Rev. Johnson said prayer meetings will be held Wednesday evenings as soon as lighting can be arranged. Presently the Sunday worship is 11 a.m. with Bible classes at 5 p.m.

Known as Mt. Zion Baptist Church, the group has about 25 members including university students.

Rev. Johnson is employed with the maintanance department at West Texas State University and his wife also works at the university. They have ten children ranging in age from 20 years to 22 months.

Reception Honors Margaret Foster Sunday

A reception honoring Mrs. Margaret Foster was held Sunday afternoon in fellowship hall of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon with about 200 attending.

The occasion honored Mrs. Foster for her retirement after being church organist for a period of 42 years.

The guests were received by Mrs. Foster and her daughter, Mrs. Sally Brasher of Dallas. Alternating in the receiving line as representatives of the session were Ples Harper and Mrs. J. D. Barker.

Mrs. Foster was presented with a diamond drop from the church by Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling and a framed citation from the session. The citation, presented by choir student Pat Jarrett, was in commemoration of her long years of service to the church.

The citation reads: "Resolution by the Session, First Presbyterian Church, Canyon, Texas

"Whereas, Margaret Foster for forty-two years with singular skill and true appreciation of the Christian heritage of good music, has performed an invaluable ministry to man, enabling them to take courage in times of sorrow, find deeper faith in times of worship, and at all times "to rejoice, give thanks and sing," and

"Whereas, Her Christian witness, not only through music but in her life as a teacher of youth, has been one of devotion and faith, joy and enthusiasm, and an exuberant love of life, God and peoples be it therefore

"Resolved, That this expression of our appreciation for her years of devotion and service and our admiration and respect for the Christian witness she has borne in our midst, be it recorded in the official records of this Church, and that a copy be presented to her at a reception in her honor on Sunday afternoon, June 8, 1969.

Adopted May 11, 1969

The tea table, laid with a gold linen cloth, was centered with a basket arrangement of yellow daisies and greenery and punch, coffee and cake were served. Various floral displays also decorated the reception room. Alternating at the table were Donna Wilson and Wanda Winn.

Mrs. W. E. Bill Adams, official hostess for the church, and other members of the church session were in charge of planning the occasion.

Susan Lewis Marries George M. Byrd

First Presbyterian Church of Borger was the setting for the marriage of Miss Susan Elaine Lewis and George Morgan Byrd Friday evening.

Rev. Roy N. Byrd, Jr., father of the bridegroom, and pastor of the Church of the Hills, Evergreen, Colorado officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Lewis and the bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Byrd and a grandson of Mrs. Alice Black and Mr. and Mrs. Roy N. Byrd Sr. of Canyon.

The sanctuary was decorated with a large basket of gladioli and daisy pompons centered on the altar and flanked by candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony, traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. E. F. Copeland, organist. She accompanied Mrs. Cecil Rentfrow, violinist, as she played "Calm As The Night" and "Panis Angelicus".

A three-tiered Dior lace bow embroidered with seed pearls secured her shoulder length veil of illusion. She carried an old fashioned arrangement of white roses and gardenias.

Miss Cindy Lewis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Rentfrow and Miss Nancy Lewis, sister of the bride. The attendants wore dresses of Chantilly lace fashioned similar to the bride's with short puffed sleeves. Miss Cindy Lewis was dressed in blue, Miss Rentfrow in pink and Miss Nancy Lewis in yellow. Their headdresses were flower bandeaus attached to short veils and each carried a wicker basket with yellow and white marguerite daisies and candytuft.

Roy Neal Byrd, III, Bozeman, Montana, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were John Byrd of Omaha, Nebraska, brother of the bridegroom, and Ben Byrd, Canyon. Ushering were William Black of Canyon and John D. Rawlings.

The bride's mother wore a gold silk and wool dress with a lace overskirt and matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a pink silk and worsted dress with matching accessories. Both wore white gardenia corsages.

Guests were received in the social rooms of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses.

Reception assistants were Miss Rebecca Byrd, Evergreen, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Debbie Childs of Fort Worth and Miss Ellen Bartlett, Wichita, Kansas. Misses Vicki Platt and Carolyn Platt distributed tiny rice bags to guests.

For her wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a green linen dress accented with a printed scarf and white accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

Out of town guests included Mrs. C. E. Lewis and Mrs. A. F. Dodd, Danville, Ill.; Mrs. Alice Black and Mr. and Mrs. Roy N. Byrd, Sr., Canyon; J. M. Black, William Black, Misses Chloe Ann Black, Pearl Black, Messrs. and Mmes. Joe H. Black, Roland S. Black, Joe Byrd and Mrs. J. C. Freeman, White Deer; the family of Roy Neal Byrd, III, Bozeman, Mont.; the R. V. Irwin family, Dumas.

Slide Show To Feature University

West Texas State University and possibly other attractions in the Canyon area will be featured in a 30-minute color slide presentation now being prepared.

First National Bank of Amarillo is gathering information for the slide show, which is to give a balanced look at the diversified Panhandle of Texas.

Bill Sewell, who is in charge of the show production, said specifically WTSU will be centered upon in the Canyon area, but he has written Roland Black, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, for other ideas.

Black said he will gather information not only on WTSU, but also on the summer production, "TEXAS," the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and Palo Duro Canyon.

The slide show is to be about 30 minutes in length.

Sewell said it will represent diversified areas of the entire Panhandle area, including education, agriculture, culture and climate.

He said the show should be finished in about 90 days and will be made available to high schools and civic groups for presentation.

Mrs. Daugherty's house, the refrigerator unit fit into the kitchen wall, where it was placed when they moved into town from the farm.

For many years, Mrs. Daugherty has taken in college-age boys as boarders in her home and has fed anywhere from 10 to two dozen at a meal.

The refrigerator has taken the wear in stride. Although Mrs. Daugherty won a new refrigerator in 1957, she kept the old 1919 because of its large storage space. She was able to keep tall items in it.

It was a little bothersome, though. In the winter she defrosted it once a week and in the summer twice a week.

Mrs. Daugherty decided not to take any more college boarders next year and with the great cutdown in need for food storage, her husband urged her to trade the 1919 in on a new one.

She hated to do it, but she did.

"It worked fine right 'till they took it out," she said. "It'd still be a good box for anybody."

Anderson plans to clean the box, repaint it and place it on display in his store.

First Wheat Brought In

Randall County's first load of the 1969 wheat crop was delivered to Umbarger Coop Elevator Saturday by John Jennings.

Vince Raemakers, elevator manager, said the load was about 200 bushels and tested 60 pounds to the bushel with 16 percent moisture.

The dryland wheat which was damaged by hail cut about 12 bushels to the acre.

E. C. Berry was first to deliver wheat to the Coop Elevator at Ralph Switch. He delivered two loads Saturday. The wheat tested 60 pounds and had a moisture content of 14.25 percent.

Buff Lake Restocked

About 30,000 channel catfish fingerlings were placed in Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge Tuesday.

The fingerlings were shipped in from Santa Rosa National Fish Hatchery.

Additional restocking will continue throughout the summer months, according to a refuge spokesman.

Previous restocking efforts have included 2,500 adult crappie from Tule Lake and 1,100 channel cat from San Angelo State Hatchery on May 16th; 6,000 channel cat and 400 walleye fingerlings on May 20; 30,000 blue cat fry from Houston State Hatchery May 23; 150,000 black bass fry from Dundee State Hatchery May 26; and last week 12,200 adult crappie from Tule Lake, Tulia.

Umbarger Girl Wins Home Town Contest

Debbie Ramaekers of Umbarger had her letter on "My Home Town. . . Umbarger" selected for first prize this week in a contest sponsored by the Amarillo Daily News.

An eighth grade student, Miss Ramaekers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ramaekers. Her winning letter was part of a class project at the Umbarger Elementary School headed by Mrs. Don Dolle, school principal.

Miss Ramaekers will receive a $10 cash prize for first place. The contest covers a 42-county region of the Golden Spread with letters limited to 400 words or less, affixed with signature of writer. Weekly cash prizes are offered for first, second and third place. Letters should be addressed to My Home Town Editor, Amarillo Daily News, Amarillo.

THE LETTER

Umbarger, my home town is an active community.

In the spring, the land lays golden with the waving wheat in this farm community. But before long, the farmers are busy as bees cutting it before a storm comes and snatches it away.

They begin at dawn and don't retire till dusk. All day, you hear the grunting of the heavy, weighted trucks mounted with grain. The country roads are in a cloud of dust, and the town streets swarm with the trucks as they go and return from the elevator.

Soon the wheat is harvested and the golden fields are only stubble soon to be plowed in preparation for the next planting.

Summer brings with it many gay children rejoicing because of summer vacation. They can see days ahead of them filled with excitement swimming, bike riding or just a friendly get-together. Summer also brings warm, sunny days, and every once in a while, a flashing thunderstorm to cool things off a bit. But soon, our summer atmosphere is back.

The crimson fields of maize are the first signs of autumn. Pretty soon the combines start turning and the trucks rolling. Maize harvest is in full swing.

Truck after truck of grain pours in the elevator, and before you know it, harvest is over and it is time for the Umbarger Fall Festival. This is a community project, so everyone works hard at it.

There are many tasks to do, but with a good spirit, everyone pitches in and does his share and the work is finished in no time. This marks the end of the color-filled autumn and the beginning of winter.

When winter arrives, the lands lay barren. Most of our winter days are just cold, although every once in awhile we awake to find a blanket of snow over the land. All of the children jump for joy and are soon playing in it. They known they better do it then, or they won't get to. . . before you can say "scat" the sun is out and the snow is gone. Soon spring is back.

There is one thing about Umbarger that you can't miss--this is the warm welcome that is given. Everyone goes out of his way to give you this.

And, as you can see, Umbarger is more than a wide place in the road.

Debbie Ramaekers
